Website: http://www.qualite-france.com/homepage\_frameset.htm

Based in: France

Type: Certifying Body; For-profit

From the Qualite France website: (Translated from the French) “The Qualite France SAS certifying body certifies farmers, producers, and distributors in their quality initiatives in the field of food. Our experts give labels from AB, Label Rouge and many others. An accredited 1 food certification body by the COFRAC, Qualite-France issues the labels on which consumers rely more and more to make their purchases.”

Certifying since: Unknown

What they do: Qualite France is an independent certifying body that can be hired for inspections by producers who wish to carry the labels of organizations like Label Rouge and Agriculture Biologique. Qualite France carries out the certification process, which includes physical inspection and analysis. When being certified, producers pay fees directly to Qualite France according to the type of inspection they require.

Miscellaneous information: Eco-labeling organizations often use more than one certifying body, which increases the likelihood of objectivity and allows them to certify producers in more places.
